Series on the Mass, Part 80

Communion of the Faithful. In the catechism of St. Pius X we read the following answer concerning how often we should go to communion: "It is an excellent thing to go to Communion often, and even daily in accordance with the desire of the Church, provided we do so with the requisite dispositions." The Catechism of the Catholic Church (CCC) continues to encourage frequent Communion (c.f. #1389). The requisite dispositions are, of course, being in the state of grace, fasting at least one hour, and preparing ourselves to receive our Lord with devotion. The CCC addresses this preparation for Communion also: "To prepare for worthy reception of this sacrament, the faithful should observe the fast required in their Church (1 hr.). Bodily demeanor (gestures, clothing) ought to convey the respect, solemnity, and joy of this moment when Christ becomes our guest." (#1387)

Pope Pius IX recommended that we pray the beautiful prayer of the Anima Christi to help us receive our Lord with devotion:

Soul of Christ, sanctify me; Body of Christ, save me; Blood of Christ, inebriate me; Water from Christ's side, wash me; Passion of Christ, strengthen me; O good Jesus, hear me; Within Thy wounds hide me; Suffer me not to be separated from Thee; From the malicious enemy defend me; In the hour of my death call me; And bid me come unto Thee; That I may praise Thee with Thy saints and with Thy angels; Forever and ever. Amen

St. Pius X said, "Each day we ask God for bread to sustain the life of our bodies and so we should also ask for the Bread that gives life to the soul," and therefore he recommended that "you approach the Eucharistic table for communion frequently, even daily if you are able." Along with this recommendation, he also insisted on regular confession. The reception of Holy Communion was very infrequent when St. Pius X was elevated to the papacy (1903-1914), but the general practice was that the faithful would go to confession before every Communion and ask permission of the pastor to approach the communion rail. Now the practice has gone to the other extreme of the faithful going to receive communion frequently, but confession being very infrequent. The branch needs to be bent back in the other direction, meaning that confession should be more frequent in general, though not to the extreme of one confession for each communion.

Sincerely in Christ,

Rev. Charles Van Vliet, FSSP
